Learner Ready Teachers

Learner-ready teachers are ready on day one to model for and develop in students the knowledge and skills students need to succeed.

Deep Knowledge of content and how to teach it with new pedagogy

- Require Praxis II in individual content area
- Add Middle School Content Requirements
- Adjust Cut scores
- Change to Ed Prep Courses
- Requiring evidence as proof of state program approval for pre-service candidates
- Increasing frequency of program review

Motivating and Engaging Students

- Pre-service requirements for common summative assessments of candidates must demonstrate evidence against Danielson Framework
- Prep program must have evidence of dispositions

Providing personalized student learning driven by data to maximize achievement

- Candidates must demonstrate use of SLOs
- IHEs developing approved artifacts as evidence for candidate's use of data.
- Demo Database
- Requirement in program approval process
- Candidates provide evidence of differentiation throughout the program
- Reflecting and collaborating to evaluate and improve practice Requiring IPLP for candidates
- Use of Danielson Framework as a reflective tool

Shared leadership for the learning of all students